Exchange Program Reviewed

This is the season when it is hoped that community interest will be aroused for the work of the Student Exchange Council.

Several students from Grayling High School have participated in this program. These young people, fine representatives of young America, not only had new experiences in foreign countries, but made lasting friendships, but also in their supervised journey to and from the countries of their choice met other students from all over the United States who had similar interests.

The Student Exchange program helps develop self-reliance, although in each country there is a counselor available for consultation and advice should the occasion for such service arise.

Each of the graduates who received community and family cooperation in taking advantage of this program, has maintained correspondence with a foreign family and wishes to make a return visit some day. These students discovered that people are the same all over the world, and that by living with them and sharing day-to-day experiences a basis for understanding each other is formed.

Also the study of history, languages and political science is stimulated, plus added interest in travel. Further education at college has definite meaning.

The people of Grayling should read with pride the following information about these former high school graduates.

Bill Joseph Jr., now completing his senior year at Albion College, has majored in history. He visited Germany.

Cheri Smock, now attending Michigan State University, traveled to Spain. She has majored in foreign languages and plans to teach.

George Stancil visited Holland. He chose to major in political science at Central Michigan University.

Rhea Stripe travelled to Spain. At present she is continuing language study in Colombia, South America, on a cooperative program between Michigan State U. and the University of the Andes.

Lynn Elsey visited Mexico. Now at Albion College, she is interested in languages and travel. Next summer she and her brother Donald have been invited to revisit her Mexican family for three weeks.

Nancy Dykema, who moved to St. Charles, also travelled to Mexico. She is a student at the University of Michigan. Her Mexican sisters have visited her and last summer Nancy and her brother Donald revisited her Mexican family for three weeks.

Boys and girls of Grayling will be in the streets demonstrating for UNICEF Sunday afternoon, October 27th. They will be dressed in wild fashions, some may even look and smell like hippies, but their cause is just and right and they will march together.

They will go door-to-door asking support of their cause with money donations to the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. All contributions go directly to this worthy cause for the relief of suffering children of the world.

Following the drive, the boys and girls will celebrate with a fun party at the Michelson Memorial Church, which sponsors the project in Grayling.

The children of Lovells Community will celebrate UNICEF on Thursday, October 31st, under auspices of the Lovells Sunday School. They too will be in costume and visit homes in small groups. Mrs. Harold Johnson, chairman of the Lovells group, stated the trick or treaters will be identified by their official collection box, an orange and black container with symbol of mother and child.

To Host Petoskey St. Francis; Defeat East Jordan Red Devils 27-0

Taking advantage of five East Jordan fumbles the Grayling Vikings shut out the Red Devils 27-0 to put a damper on their homecoming festivities.

This Friday night the Vikings will host a real tough Petoskey St. Francis eleven which will mark Grayling's annual homecoming.

St. Francis is leading the league with Harbor Springs and with a solid defense has allowed an average of 13 points a game. In the game with East Jordan, the Vikings hit on their first score when Bruce Burkett fired a 38 yard touchdown pass to Allen Lowe in the first quarter. The extra point was missed.

On the next series of plays, Cy Wakeley recovered one of the five East Jordan fumbles and the Vikings were again in scoring position. Dave Holmes scored later on a 6 yard run off tackle.

Burkett ran for the extra point and the Vikings led 13-0. Just before halftime, Grayling recovered another Red Devil fumble to again go in for a TD on a 25 yard pass play from Burkett to Vern Hartman. Burkett again ran for the XP and Grayling led 20-0 at halftime.

The Vikings fourth touchdown came in the third quarter after they stopped East Jordan and with a sustained drive scored from 7 yards out. The XP was good, leaving the score 27-0.

From then on Coach Weiland substituted freely giving all the players a chance to see action. This Friday night's game with the Petoskey St. Francis squad is a must for the Vikings if they expect to remain in contention for league honors.

Mike Smock, regular Viking quarterback, missed the entire game at East Jordan with an injured knee. Coach Weiland said Monday he expected him to be ready for the Petoskey game, at least for part time duty.

In other conference action last Friday, Harbor Springs edged Onaway 13-12 and Petoskey St. Francis blanked Pellston 12-0 to remain tied for the league lead with 3-0 records.

Grayling pushed across their second TD in the second period after a sustained drive with Greg McClain and King picking up most of the yardage. Ward again used the quarterback sneak to go the final two feet.

The extra point was missed and Grayling held a 13-7 halftime lead.

The final Grayling TD was set up in the third quarter by a 50 yard pass play from Murray Babbitt to Leonard Leiminger. Mead again scored from one yard out on another sneak, and Grayling led 19-7.

Neither team threatened the rest of the game as a driving rain turned the field into a sea of mud.

Jim Corlew was voted the outstanding player for his fine work in the line.

The JV's final game of the season will be Thursday, October 24th when they journey to Rosecommon for a game with our neighbors to the south.

J.V.'s Defeat Cheboygan 19-7

The Grayling JV's continue undefeated in the grid wars after handing the Cheboygan junior varsity a 19-7 defeat last Wednesday night on the little Chiefs field.

Coach Frank Smith announced Monday that the open date on the schedule had been filled. Grayling will entertain Lake City at the local gridiron this Thursday evening, October 17th, at 7:30 p.m.

In the Cheboygan game, Grayling hit the end-zone in the first quarter after Jerry King recovered a Chief's fumble on the 25 yard line.

Following a series of downs that carried the ball to the one yard line, Tim Mead went in for the score on a quarterback sneak. The extra point was good on a guard eligible pass play from Mead to Jim Corlew.

Cheboygan came back later in the first quarter to score from the two yard-line with the help of a long pass to set it up. The extra point was good to tie the game at 7-7.

Schaeffer-Brown Views Spoken

Anita Jeanne Schaeffer and Clayton Francis Brown were united in marriage on Oct. 5, at 11:30 a.m. in St. Peter's Church, Douglas, with Rev. Leo Rosloniec officiating. Music was provided by Kathryn Hanneke at the organ and Mrs. Barbara Reinings as vocalist.

Anita is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Schaeffer of 199-170th Avenue, Holland. Clayton is the son of Mrs. Bettie Black of Rantoul, Illinois.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length sheath gown of chissac crepe with Venice lace circling the empire waist and bracelet sleeves. A brush train which fell from the waist, was banded with the lace. Her headpiece, a chapel-length mantilla was edged with Venice lace. She carried sweetheart roses, miniature white carnations and ivy.

Mrs. Mary Benjarano, matron of honor, wore a Nile green and line gown with Watteau panel falling from a bow at the neck back. Flounced elbow length sleeves were trimmed with Venice lace. A matching contour bow headpiece with puffed veils completed the ensemble. Her flowers were miniature white carnations, bronze pom-poms and miniature mums. The bridesmaids were Martha Szymanski, Margaret Hebert, and Rose Marie Schaeffer, with Jennifer Alef as flower girl. They wore gowns identical to the matron of honor.

Gerald Vettesse was best man, while Fred Reichelderfer, Robert Smock Jr., Stephan Schaeffer and James Schaeffer seated the guests. Timothy Overway was ringbearer.

The reception was held at Saint Peter's Church Hall. Following a wedding trip to Canada the couple will reside at 901 Erie Street, Grayling.

The bride attended Saugatuck High School, and Mercy School of Practical Nursing and is a licensed practical nurse at Mercy Hospital.

Clayton attended Champaign High School and is employed at Grayling Mercantile Co.

46 YEARS AGO—
October 19, 1922
A. M. Lewis, local druggist, has entered into an organization known as the Brown-Rutherford Motor Sales Co. with sales rooms at 100-104 E. Genesee, Saginaw, Mich. The firm was organized for the purpose of handling Durant cars including the much talked of "Star" which is claimed to be a real competitor of Ford.
A large crowd gathered at Michelson Memorial Church Friday evening to meet and welcome Rev. and Mrs. Jones and family, who have come to Grayling to reside. Rev. Jones having become the pastor of the church. The decorating committee with Mrs. L. J. Cross as chairman, together with the refreshment committee of which Mrs. A. J. Joseph was chairman, made every effort to give the church parlors a welcoming air. Mrs. C. A. Canfield, president of the Ladies Aid Society, was general chairman and she presented the following program: piano duet, Misses Ella and Margrethe Hanson; vocal solo, Mrs. Roy Milnes; piano solo, Mrs. Glench; piano solo by Mrs. Roy Bricker. The affair was one of the pleasantest of the church occasions.

Postmaster and Mrs. Holger F. Peterson and little John Henry left for Bay City Saturday where they joined Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Behlke and the party motored to Lansing to be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo E. Herron over Sunday.
William E. McCullough was in the city Sunday visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCullough. While here Mr. McCullough purchased from Reel and Schumann, real estate agents, 280 acres of land, located 3 1/2 miles east of Grayling on the East Branch of the AuSable, property belonging to Mrs. T. R. Martin of Emmetsburg, Iowa. Mr. McCullough is employed in the chemical department of the Ford Motor Company, and intends to use the land to make experiments in reforestation.

Cpt. Harold Hatfield returned to Billings General Hospital in Indiana Sunday after spending a 20-day furlough with his parents. The furlough was granted by the War Relocation Authority.

Stephan-Hatfield Wed Sept. 28

The marriage of Miss Janet Stephan, daughter of the Norman Stephens, Sr. of Grayling, to Michael J. Hatfield, son of the Harold Hatfields, Jr. of Grayling, took place Saturday, September 28, 1938, at one o'clock at the Michelson Memorial Methodist Church.

Rev. Charles Kolb officiated before some 50 guests. Soloist was Mrs. Norval Stephan, accompanied by Mrs. Anemarie Bultuis.

Given in marriage by her father, Janet chose a gown of imported Chantilly lace. Maid of honor was Miss Babra Boucher of Petoskey, with sisters of the bride Mrs. John Howe of Charlevoix and Mrs. Michael Henschen of New Knoxville, Ohio, and sister of the bridegroom Miss Marcy Hatfield, in attendance as bridesmaids. Coho Know - How Try as you may, you'll never improve the eating quality of a freshly caught coho salmon. But you can do a lot to keep the fresh - caught flavor. Coho will lose eating quality if left for hours on the bottom of the boat, over the side on a stringer, or in the warm trunk of your car on the way home to the kitchen.
The best method for saving the freshness and flavor is to clean and ice the coho quickly. The fish should be completely covered by crushed ice in a chest or cooler. Be sure to drain water from the cooler frequently, because the coho will lose some flavor if allowed to stand in even the coldest water.
At home, wrap the coho in moisture proof paper or place in a tightly covered dish. Store immediately in refrigerator.
Fish may be cooked in frozen or thawed state. If you thaw coho before preparing, be sure to thaw slowly in refrigerator, not in hot water. Cooking frozen fish will take about 25 percent longer than cooking thawed fish.

Dramatically Speaking ...

BY CARL MINOR

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of articles on dramatics written by Carl Minor, dramatics coach at Crawford-Ausublo High School, which will appear once or twice a month in the Avelanche.

Variety has been the goal of the Viking Drama Club in their determined effort to bring good theater to local audiences. Straight comedy, with equal emphasis on character and situation, was presented in "The Curious Savage." Classified as a folk play, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" portrayed the people and the customs of West Virginia mountaineers. In the classic "Jane Eyre," a character comedy-drama was presented. "Tom Jones" was a period farce; "The Miracle Worker," an example of modern realism. "The People Versus Maxine Lowe" was a courtroom drama, and "Claudia," a deeply religious play. Along with the above, the GHS music department brought to the local stage the classic operetta, "H.M.S. Pinafore," as well as such outstanding musicals as "Brigadoon," "My Fair Lady," and "Oklahoma!"

Fundamentally, the purpose of this variety in theatrical productions is to cultivate a higher and wider appreciation of the dramatic arts. Many times, however, the theme of a particular play is not understood, especially by those with little or no training and background in the theater. An example of this was the production of "Claudia" last year. A few people criticized the play as being in poor taste and anti-religious. On the contrary, the play was one of deep religious convictions. Claudia, the leading character, was a child-wife with a simple, almost naive, faith in God. Her husband, David, was an agnostic, a non-believer, who ridiculed his wife's child-like faith. During her struggle to grow into womanhood, to face the trials of life — conjugal faithfulness, the birth of her first child, and the death of her mother from cancer — Claudia came near to losing her faith in God. Her husband, David, in guiding his young wife through these tribulations, found faith in God, and in so doing, he also saved the faith of his wife. Those who missed this missed the essence of the play.

"Pride and Prejudice," the first production of the Viking Drama Club this year, unlike

"Claudia" is a satire on the religious ideas of a particular historical period. Jane Austen who wrote the novel, "Pride and Prejudice," in 1813, understood the English clergy she satirized. Her gentle satire is retained in the many dramatic productions adapted from the original novel. Jane Austen, often regarded as the greatest of women novelists, was the seventh child of a country parson. She passed her days like many an English lady of the time, almost entirely within her family circle, closeted and extremely religious. The only traumatic event of her life was an attachment to a clergyman who died before they could be married, but this was an obscure episode producing little outward change in her life. She never married; had no contact with London literary life, spent all her time when not writing, on ordinary domestic duties, among her numerous nephews and nieces. Out of the materials of such a confining world, or perhaps, precisely by sticking scrupulously to that narrow world, she created great literature. Her completed novels, "Sense and Sensibility," "Pride and Prejudice," "Mansfield Park," "Emma," "Northanger Abbey," and "Persuasion," are distinguished by their subtle view of human nature, exquisite moral discrimination, and unobtrusive perfection of style. These qualities elevate her little world of struggling clerical families, husband-hunting mothers and daughters, eligible clergymen and landowners, country fools and snobs, into an enduring microcosm of the great world beyond her own narrow boundaries.

"Pride and Prejudice" is a satire on the snobbery of the period, the inability of people to advance above the level of the social status into which they were born. It provokes gentle ridicule of the customs and ideas prevalent in both religious life and high society of the 18th and 19th centuries. The Viking Drama Club will bring this satire to life when they present "Pride and Prejudice" at Grayling on November 14 and 15, and in Frederic on November 18.

BARRY MCGUIRE IN NEW POSITION

LANSING, A Barry McGuire, associate manager of the East Michigan Tourist Association, has been named executive director of the Michigan State Supervisors Association. McGuire, 35, will take over his new duties in Lansing on December 2.

In a six-year career with the EMTA McGuire directed the publicity, publications and public relations activities plus handling membership services for several counties in the 29-county region served by the tourist group.

McGuire has made substantial contributions to the tourist industry of all of Michigan," commented EMTA executive vice president James Hall, of Bay City. "His outstanding record with the EMTA will serve him well in his new duties of serving all of Michigan's 89 counties."

Just put off the payments.

Before winter hits you with a lot of expensive misery again, convert to clean, economical Natural Gas heat. We'll remove your old oil tank free of charge, and pay you for any leftover oil or coal. There's just a small down payment, and you pay nothing for the installation for six months.

Then, if you like, you can pay on your Gas bill over a period of 36 months. Easy. And, you can save up to one-third on present heating bills.

But using is believing. Just call us or your participating heating contractor today. You'll know it's the truth when they say: Gas makes the big difference... costs less, too!

Sales Manager of Bear Archery

William (Bill) F. Sparks has been appointed sales manager of the Bear Archery Division of Victor Comptometer Corporation, Grayling, Michigan, according to Robert F. Kelly, vice president of marketing for Bear Archery.

Sparks first joined Bear Archery in 1958 as a salesman in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia. After four years of selling archery equipment in this territory, he left Bear to join the sales staff of a firearms manufacturer, becoming in 1966 a regional manager for the firm.

In 1967, Sparks rejoined Bear Archery as district manager in charge of sales in Wisconsin, the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, Northern Illinois and Northwestern Indiana.

In announcing Sparks' appointment as sales manager, Kelly said, "Bill is well qualified through ability and experience at the dealer level to head our sales department and help meet an increasing demand for more dealer contact with the company."

To take his new position at Grayling, Sparks has moved his wife and four children to the Michigan community from Oconomowoc, Wisconsin.

GREAT LAKES, III. (FHTNC) — Seaman Apprentice Steven J. LaGrow, 18, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley J. LaGrow of 508 Chestnut St., Grayling, has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center here.

In the first weeks of his naval service he studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those he will encounter on his first shore station.

In making the transition from civilian life to Naval service, he received instruction under veteran Naval petty officers. He studied seamanship, as well as survival techniques, military drill and other subjects.

Now on Sale

LANSING — License plates for commercial vehicles and all trailers went on sale October 1 at all branch offices of the Secretary of State.

Plates for passenger cars do not go on sale until November 15, two weeks later than in past years.

Revenue from commercial licensing is expected to go up around $4-million for the 1969 licensing year.

Unlike passenger plates, commercial license plates will not have the slogan "Great Lake State" imprinted on them. The space normally reserved for the slogan, has been set for affixing gross vehicle stickers on commercial tabs.

Teaching Conservation Discussed At State Confab at Battle Creek

By Willard Besserman
County Extension Natural Resource Agent

The Michigan Chapter of Conservation Educators was organized at the Michigan Education Association Conference Center at St. Marys Lake, near Battle Creek.

Charles Guenther, Superintendent of the Conservation Training School, Higgins Lake and myself were in attendance.

Many of the 150 in attendance were elementary and junior high science teachers. All are concerned about protecting our environment. One reason for added concern for the conservation of natural resources is because of the population explosion. An added number of people each year puts more pressure on our fixed number of resources. We will never have more rivers. We can make small lakes but this is limited.

An increased population would be reason enough for concern, but because there is general apathy towards our environment it is of greater concern.

The mad gold rush for the Coho salmon is an example of the lack of knowledge or lack of concern for our resources.

A new resource, the coho was introduced, people in their endeavor to get their share of this new resource destroyed other resources in doing so. They destroyed the stream banks and adversely affected Bear Creek.

In working with the AuSable River Water Shed Study Council, we spent considerable time making a study of stream bank conditions along the AuSable and hope we can get property owners to make some improvements to protect the river. But on Bear Creek, mobs of people destroyed nearly all the vegetation on the stream bank in one week.

I mentioned changing environment. We know if we change the environment of trout they can no longer survive. If the water temperature is above 72 degrees for long periods of time, trout die out. If the dissolved oxygen is below 5 ppm for very long, trout do not live. If we clean out all of the hiding places, trout are eaten by predators. We can change our own environment to such a degree that we can no longer survive.

Last year at the University of Michigan some students were treated for a poison which they had been breathing in their home town before coming to the University of Michigan. A sudden withdrawal of poison made them ill.

Since the turn of the century, the amount of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere has risen almost

Policyholder Questions Answered by the Health Insurance Institute, 277 Park Ave., N. Y. N. Y., 10017

Q. Several months ago, I came down with a serious illness which the doctor feels can best be cured by moving to a warmer climate. I have talked with two other doctors about whether I should move and they agree with our family doctor. My disability insurance will cover my illness now but the insurance company is not licensed in the state where we are planning to move. Is there any way I can make sure I will be properly covered?

A. There will be no problem in moving to another state while still being covered. Your disability insurance will be in effect and you should receive full benefit payments no matter what state you move to, as long as you are totally disabled. Check your policy, however, to see whether these benefits are excluded or limited. Furthermore, disability insurance does not generally cover an individual who has moved outside the United States for more than six months. For other specific questions regarding your policy, check with your insurance agent.

Q. Is there always a "waiting period" for disability income insurance benefits to start?

A. While you can select a policy with first dollar coverage, most policies have an elimination or waiting period, generally ranging between 14 and 90 days, depending upon the particular policy, thus reducing the premium. Many people arrange their policy so that benefits begin when their salary continuation plan at work stops. This makes economic sense because the longer the waiting period, the lower the premium on a policy. If you have disability income coverage, check your policy to see what the waiting period is in your case, so that you can plan ahead with necessary funds in that interim period if illness or an accident should occur.

It's easy-when you know the answers

All of life is not far removed from the classroom. There are truths to be learned every day. And there are questions to be answered. But some people don't have the answer when they need it. And some people do.

Any teacher will tell you it's a question of preparation. And any preacher will tell you the same.

The people who go to church on Sunday have no more problems than those who stay home. Nor do they expect as a result to have any fewer.

They believe simply in preparation—preparation of the mind, conscience, heart and soul... faith.

This is the preparation God offers men... for the questions that will confront us all tomorrow!

New Building Has Everything Including The Kitchen Sink

From Michigan National Guardsmen By Alan Cudworth

One of the newest buildings at Camp Grayling is located at the Field Training Equipment Concentration Site. The 80 foot wide, 262 foot long building cost approximately $390,000. Construction started in September of 1967 and the completion date was April 4, 1968. Property Officer and Shop Supervisor, CPT David B. Hanson, and his staff moved into the building in May 1968. The purpose of the building is to provide a maintenance facility for up to 300 armored track vehicles. In addition, it provides storage for small arms, repair parts and sensitive instruments. It also enables other buildings in the FTECS area to support the maintenance and repair of wheeled vehicles and house bulk repair items.

The new building contains office space, a signal repair room, a battery storage and recharging room, a tank repair parts and supply room, arms vault, small arms repair room, an artillery and automotive maintenance room, a paint shop, a wash and steam room, a machine shop and an eight bay repair shop.

Each bay has its own piped in air, grease and electricity. The overhead doors of each bay have individual instant gas heaters which keep the heat from leaving the building in cold weather. All of the bays have easy access to a five ton overhead electric crane which carries engines and transmissions—to the rebuild area. In addition, 75 high intensity fluorescent lights provide shadowless work areas throughout the bays.

The building is constructed of steel frames individually set in concrete which is separated from the floor and block interior walls by cork to prevent cracking.

Twenty-nine technicians are employed at the FTECS and they take pride in accomplishing the impossible. For example, three and a half weeks before summer camp they had the task of putting 21 inoperable 155mm and 8 inch self propelled howitzers in working order for use in field training. There were no parts for the 15 year old howitzers so they used the technique of "robbing Peter to pay Paul."

After 1,371 man hours of work they had six out of nine 155 mm howitzers and seven out of 12 8 inch howitzers in running order. No doubt the new facility helped them meet the deadline.

V. F. W. POST 3736

A meeting was held October 8th at which members took care of some things which came up. There is help for us in getting some uniforms, so let's see some of you comrades come in and talk about trying to build our Post up to a nice figure.

Don't forget we have 3-lb. fruit cakes to move. Your help in this is always appreciated. Thanks to comrade Harvey Bourque for the altar stand—a very nice job.

The next meeting will be November 13 at 8 p.m. in the City Hall council room.

We would like to reinstate some of the group that was organized before, or any other eligible veterans.

Pub. Chm. William Higbee

A Step Forward in Pollution Control

One of the responsibilities of your local Health Department is the protection of your natural resources. We are but one of many agencies working toward this objective. Others include the Michigan Department of Conservation and Water Resources Commission, a sub-division of the Conservation Department. Also involved in this tremendous task is the U.S. Department of Agriculture and many of its sub-divisions. Our objectives are essentially the same and that is good Resource Management and Pollution Control.

The State Bond Issue or Proposal No. 3 on the November 5th ballot gives the registered voter of the State an opportunity to provide an essential tool needed to combat existing pollution and prevent future pollution of our clean waters. Approval of the proposal would help to provide 210 new sewage treatment facilities, improve 128 existing facilities, and provide financial assistance to un-sewered communities.

Communities who have been unable to obtain financial assistance for sewage treatment systems but who, on their own initiative, have proceeded in planning towards treatment systems, could now gain considerable priority towards assistance on this program.

Your local Health Department favors Proposal No. 3 and 4 and urges your consideration. J. Cinco, R. S., Administrator District Health Dept. No. 1

AuSable Council

Members Visit Jordan River

By Willard Bosserman
County Extension Natural Resource Agent

Members of the AuSable River Watershed Study Council were guests of a similar organization for the Jordan River Friday October 4.

The purpose of the joint meeting was to exchange ideas and compare notes on progress. The two groups are the only ones organized under act 200 to improve the river.

Although there has not been a great deal of contact between the groups, it was discovered that they were both encountering similar problems. In the land use study of the AuSable, many points of stream bank erosion were found. John Hodge, District Extension Natural Resource Agent who guided the tour, showed us many places on the Jordan River where over use or mis-use caused erosion.

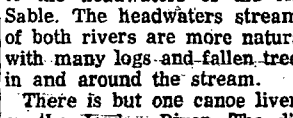

Several of the places were seen where culverts were used as bridges with no abutments to keep the gravel on the road bed. This means that the gravel and finer soil particles were eroding into the stream. Abutments were not used in order to cut the costs, but I wonder how much it costs after each rain to replace the gravel which eroded.

The Jordan is not built up with cottages and homes as is the AuSable. The watershed is much smaller, encompassing only nine townships in two counties. The headwaters are quite similar to the headwaters of the AuSable. The headwaters streams of both rivers are more natural with many logs and fallen trees in and around the stream.

There is but one canoe livery on the Jordan River. The distance which can be canoeed is very short, less than 20 miles total. The AuSable has nearly 300 miles of scenic canoeing from Grayling and Roscommon to Oscoda.

Both Study Councils are looking forward to another year of progress in protecting our two rivers.
